

frequently asked questions

Who can use Angie's List?

All Royal LePage Estate Realtors® can request support from Angie's List.

Who can be a trained Associate?

Any Royal LePage Estate Realtor® can complete the Angie's List training to be on the Roster of Registrants. Registrants will be placed in the stream commensurate with their experience level. Those who work within the program agree to maintain minimum standards.

If I request a service how do I pay?

A requesting agent will see the cost of the requested service on their Agent Expense Statements. There is no need to handle invoices or pay directly for the service.

How do I get paid for services I provide?

When you complete the service request assigned to you submit the required report to Admin and copy the requesting Agent. When this is completed your Agent expense account will be credited the agreed upon amount. If you earn more than your monthly expenses and are owed money you can choose to leave it on your account to be credited towards future expenses or once per month you can request in writing to be paid.

How is the Program Evaluated?

All Registrants are invited to share their experiences with the program directly to Angie's List. In addition following completion of each service users will be sent a short survey to provide Estate Realty with ongoing feedback.

Benefits for busy Agents

Angie's List exists to ensure you have access to the support you need completing trade related activities when you need it. When you get busy sometimes it feels like you simply can't do it all! This program offers relief during your busiest times allowing you to focus on the most productive activities that deliver the highest return while still maintaining a high standard of client care. Using a trained colleague for paid support on a per hour basis provides you additional time to focus on your overall business and supports a more reasonable work life balance.

Benefits for Associate Agents

Being a member of The Angie's List Team enables you to earn extra income by conducting real estate related activities by supporting those who have requested help. By assisting in the work of your Realtor® colleagues you are consistently gaining invaluable experience, build confidence and relationships all while generating income to supplement your commission.
